Privacy Policy for CleanSlateCenters.com

Your Privacy When On Our Website. This is our website privacy policy ("Website Privacy Policy") to let you know what information we collect through this website (CleanSlateCenters.com), how we collect, use and share that information, and how you may view, correct or change information if you should desire to do so. This policy applies only to information collected on or through a website(s) owned and operated by the CleanSlate Centers ("CleanSlate"). Any specific website, including all subordinate or subsidiary web pages or websites, owned and operated by CleanSlate is collectively referred to as "Website". CleanSlate may engage third parties such as a hosting service to assist in the operation of the Website. As used in this policy, the terms "we," "us" and "our" refer to CleanSlate. The information practices of other sites operated or maintained on behalf of CleanSlate by any third party are not covered by this policy. Read it carefully.

Our Website Privacy Policy. Using this Website, "You" (the person using Website on behalf of yourself or others, for whatever benefit) understand and accept this policy in its entirety, including as amended from time to time. If any portion of this policy is unacceptable to You, do not use and you are not permitted to use Website.

Privacy Practices Notice - Health Information. Certain protected health information that may be provided by You is protected as described in CleanSlate's Privacy Notices. In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Website Privacy Policy and the terms of the Privacy Notice, the terms of the Privacy Notice will govern.

Information Collected. The type of information collected on this website will depend upon the features and functionalities available on this website, which may be revised from time to time. For example, if the Website is currently operated as a "read-only" website, we may not collect any personal information about you through the Website and will not learn who you are. On the other hand, if the Website permits you to "register," "create an account," or take similar actions, we will collect information from you that can be used to specifically identify you as an individual (such as your name, telephone number, postal address, email address, and payment information, collectively "Personal Data"). This website automatically collects aggregated information that is not linked to any specific individual such as information about traffic patterns on the Website, or the number of times a specific page was viewed in a particular month. We may use and share aggregate, de-identified, and anonymous data without restriction as it does not identify you or any other individual user.

Personal Data, Use and Sharing. If this website permits you to register, create an account, make purchases, or take similar actions, and if you chose to take such actions, then we will ask you to provide us with certain Personal Data about yourself. It is always your choice whether you wish to provide Personal Data through the Website, but if you do not provide requested Personal Data you may not be able to use all the features or functionalities of the Website.

Personal Data may be combined with other information we receive through other methods, such as from you in-person if you visit one of our facilities. We also may use and/or share Personal Data with third parties that help us operate our business, for example we may provide your email address to an email vendor that helps us send large volumes of email, and if you make a purchase we may share your Personal Data with third parties as necessary to process your order and receive payment. We may share Personal Data with CleanSlate's affiliate and subsidiary entities. CleanSlate may transfer Personal Data to a successor entity such as in the case of a sale of our business, a particular business division, merger, spin-off, sale of substantially all assets, or a similar transaction. CleanSlate may use Personal Data to provide requested services to you and to provide you with additional information we believe you may find interesting or useful. Depending upon the features of the Website, we may use Personal Data to track your activities / progress on and through the Website or other transaction history. We may contact you through any and all contact methods (e.g., cell phone, fax, email, etc.) you provide us through the Website.

Use of Cookies. The Website does use cookies in a limited manner. A cookie is a small data file that most major Websites write to your hard drive for record-keeping purposes when you visit them. Cookies allow Website managers to measure activity on the site and to improve your user experience, for example, by remembering your passwords and viewing preferences, thus allowing you to visit various registered access parts of the site without re-registering.

These cookies are not created or used to collect any information (aggregate or personal) about you at any time. You may occasionally get cookies from other sites, which is standard in the Internet industry. CleanSlate does not control these cookies, and these cookies are not subject to this Website Privacy Policy.

You do not have to accept cookies to use the Website, however, you may not be able to use certain features or access certain areas if you do not accept cookies. Although most browsers are initially set to accept cookies, you may reset your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie or to reject cookies generally.

Social Media and Third Party Platforms. Certain sections or functionalities on the Website may permit you to choose to cross-post or share information on a third party social media site or platform such as Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, Twitter, Google +, or other similar sites (collectively, "Social Media Sites"). CleanSlate does not own or control such Social Media Sites, and posting your information on Social Media Sites is subject to the third party's privacy policy and other legal terms, which may or may not provide privacy protections with which you agree. CleanSlate is not responsible for any act or omission of any Social Media Site, nor are we responsible for the consequences of your choosing to share your information on Social Media Sites.

Security. The Website has security measures in place designed to protect against the loss, misuse and alteration of the information under our control. However, data transmission over the Internet or wireless networks cannot be guaranteed to be completely secure. Although we are committed to safeguarding your privacy and security, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us, and you do so at your own risk. The CleanSlate is not responsible or liable for the illegal acts (such as hacking) of third parties.

Links to Other Websites. The Website may contain links to other websites and those sites may not follow the same privacy policies as CleanSlate. These sites may send their own cookies to you, and may collect and use data in ways that CleanSlate would not. Please note
